About us for Department Of Architecture:-

The Department of Architecture at NSU turns out creative professionals equipped to realize imagined spaces on the socio-economic and cultural landscape of Bangladesh sensitively, responsibly and with a critical reference to global phenomena. What sets the school apart is its dedication to the fundamentals of the creative process and its grounding in the socio-cultural milieu that gives depth and meaning to the discipline of architecture.Whilst providing access to materials, advanced technology, a dedicated architectural library and workshop and the most highly qualified faculty to guide the studios and develop the philosophical core of the discipline, the school remains loyal to its motto of simplicity and practicality. Thus the carefully choreographed journey through experimentation and self-discovery inherent in architectural education is punctuated here with study tours, lectures and seminars with experienced practitioners, workshops and hands on experiences to connect the students to the ground realities.The department currently offers a Bachelor of Architecture B.Arch degree that is a 5 year 170 credit program with concentrations in studio, theory, optional and elective courses.
